Alessandra Ianniello

Interior, food, portrait, still life

Service offered: Production, postproduction and styling

Born in Rome and adopted since the 80s by Milano where she lives with her family.

She graduated at Università La Sapienza of Rome in Contemporary Art History, and afterwards she attended courses at IED (European Institute of Design).

In 2004 she starts working with the stylist Francesca Davoli, a major step of her career. In collaboration with Francesca she realizes several photo-services for the journal Marie Claire Maison, directed at the time by Claude Jeancolas.

The realization of a successful photo-service requires many different phases/actions. All starts with the setting up of the scene by bringing pieces of furniture and objects by carriers in palaces, villas, gardens, greenhouses.

Her photos are mostly made by a sophisticated use of natural light. The interiors photographed by Alessandra Ianniello bring to the observer the atmosphere of the site, macro-photos allow to appreciate the texture of fabrics, cropped to bring you close to the object of design.

Since 2013 she collaborates with the renowned photography agency Living Inside of Milano on interiors photoproductions: a story teller of private houses and their residents.

She collaborates with several interior design magazines, Italian and international such as AD, ELLE DECOR, LIVING IT, IDEAT, etc.
